T-CUP

I wanted to create a table that allowed you to see the sides at the same instant you viewed the top surface. This allows you to view the rings as they move from large, fluid lines on the curved side to the densely packed centre rings. Also at this time, I was interested in the work of Eva Zeisel and thought "Why not call the table T-Cup?" The form doesn't intentionally reference any of her forms, but still allows me to think of her beautiful ceramic work and the passion she brought to her designs.

*T-Cup is shown in western red cedar with clear hardwax oil finish.
